

Love Is Blind

Claire Voyant

Here we are
Underneath a million stars
I want to believe that I'm in your mind
I want to believe your love is blind Feelings can go away but How do I know who's to blame?
The stars come out when the dawn's asleep
And your heaven takes hold of me Why do we feel?
In between the blur
Is it real?
I want to believe that love is kind
I want to believe that your love is blind Feelings can go away and
How will I know who's to blame?
The stars come out when the dawn's asleep
And heaven takes hold of me You gotta believe in something
You gotta believe in something
Believe in me, believe in me Feelings can go away and
How will I know who's to blame?
The stars come out when the dawn's asleep
And heaven takes hold of me You gotta believe in something
You gotta believe in something
