Numb

Luce

All the air that we breathe enters you
But enters me deeper, yeah, deeper
That big boat on which you float
Does it in the shallowest of water, watersWell, you lie down, sit, and you stay
I'm telling you there's a better way
If you open up your big mouth
You could let it, let it outWonder where you are, I do
You dropped into something, I do
Wonder where you areAm I coming through?
Yeah, am I coming through?
Yeah, yeah, rightWell, you can't hide much longer inside
So get out of whatever it is you're into, you're into
Or is the damage worse than I feared
You wishing you could disappear?If you open up your big head
You could let somebody inWonder where you are, I do
Jumped into something, I do
Wonder where you areAm I coming through?
Am I coming through?
Am I coming through?
Am I coming through?
Am I coming through?I thought that you were okay
We got high the other day
But your head was numb
You're not the only oneYeah, yeah, yeah, yeah, alrightWonder where you are, I do
Jumped into something, I do
Wonder where you areWonder where you are, I do
Wonder where you are, I do
Wonder where you are, I do
