

Habits

Jason Reeves

I can't stop smoking your skin
I can't help drinking your eyes
I'm always boppin' your lips on lonely moonless nights i get the shakes when you're gone, when your here i'm paralyzed You're like a shot in the vein in the black coal lightIn a room with boarded windows
Smoking spoons and candle light
With too little
Too much of you
Doctor said that I could dieCause breaking a hearts like breaking a habit Move me like art then fool me with magic
And I don't wanna say its over
But I hate tryna' love you sober baby
Cause breaking a hearts like breaking a habit
I keep tryna quit you
I keeop tryna quit youI call you deep in the night to meet me in parking lights give you all that I have you give me just what I want and now im strung out for days watching the sunrise and sets trying to bury your face beneath the secrets I keptIn a room with boarded windows Barely hanging on to life causeCause breaking a hearts like breaking a habit Move me like art then fool me with magic
And I don't wanna say its over
But I hate tryna' love you sober baby
Cause breaking a hearts like breaking a habit
I keep tryna quit you
I keep tryna quit youCause breaking a hearts like breaking a habit Move me like art then fool me with magic
And I don't wanna say its over
But I hate tryna' love you sober baby
Cause breaking a hearts like breaking a habit
I keep tryna quit you
I keep tryna quit you

Song Discussions is protected by U.S. Patent 9401941. Other patents pending.

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnllyrics.com/>