

Welcome Home

Lex de Azevedo

We saved your place welcome home we missed your face welcome home it's so good to see your back where you should be welcome home welcome home welcome home you've come back to the light welcome home you've dance through the night welcome home there's joy in our hearts let the celebration start welcome home welcome home welcome home yesterday has faded now it's in the past the sun is rising on a new day and the day is ours at last we will walk together like we walked before together evermore you were lost now your found welcome home you've returned to safe ground welcome home what was dead is alive come and stay in our love welcome home welcome home welcome home together evermore you were lost now your found welcome home you've returned to safe ground welcome home what was dead is alive come and stay in our love welcome home welcome home welcome home.
