Monument

Utopia

I got the message in my mailbox
Nobody goes to church no more
They're closing down your little altar
They've locked the sanctuary doorDon't fight it
Who can say that you didn't try
Don't fight it
Old soldiers never dieWhere will I go to leave my offering
To think about how life's so queer
And listen to the little choir
The sermon I don't care to hearDon't fight it
Who can say that it's not the end
Don't fight it
And if we don't meet again
I know somewhere a monument
Stands in the name of our love
Somewhere are monuments
Standing in the name of our love
