

Where I Belong

Switchfoot

Feeling like a refugee,
Like it don't belong to me,
The colors flash across the sky. This air feels strange to me,
Feeling like a tragedy,
I take a deep breath and close my eyes.
One last time,
One last time. Stones on the wasteland,
Dark clouds on the plains again,
We were born into the fight. But I'm no sentimental,
This skin and bones is a rental,
And no one makes it out alive. Until I die I'll sing these songs,
On the shores of Babylon,
Still looking for home,
In a world where I belong. Where the weak are finally strong,
Where the righteous right the wrongs,
Still looking for home,
In a world where I belong. Feels like we're just waiting, waiting,
While our hearts are just breaking, breaking,
Feels that we're fighting against the tide. I wanna see the earth start shaking,
I wanna see generation,
Finally waking up inside. Until I die I'll sing these songs,
On the shores of Babylon,
Still looking for home,
In a world where I belong. Where the weak are finally strong,
Where the righteous right the wrongs,
Still looking for home,
In a world where I belong. In a world where I belong. This body's not my own,
This world is not my own,
But I still can hear the sound,
Of my heart beating now.
So let's go boys, play it loud!!! On the final day I die,
I want to hold my head up high,
I want to tell you that I tried,
To live it like a song. And when I reach the other side,
I want to look you in the eye,
And know that I've arrived,
In a world where I belong,
In a world where I belong,
In a world where I belong,

Where I belong,
Where I belong,
Where I belong,
Where I belong.I still believe we could live forever,
You and I we begin forever now,
Forever now,
Forever,
I still believe in us together,
You and I we're here together now,
Together now,
Forever now,
Forever now,
Forever now,
Forever,
Forever.
