Think Too Much

Idina Menzel

Do you think about the moon?
Made you feel real special 'cause it followed you everywhere
Do you think about the sun showers?
The way you like to run naked in them and shampoo your hair
Do you think about why we sneeze in the sun?
Wish my freckles would just leave us alone
Do you think about when you're older
Will they make a 'Sunday Night Movie' about your life?
You think you got tattoos your grandkids are gonna like?
Well, is your cup half empty, is your cup half full?
Whatcha gonna be when you grow up?
Are you a gym teacher, rock star or superhero
In a major motion picture, action feature creature?
Over and over, figure it out
Maybe today we'll find the message in the clouds
Maybe tomorrow we'll crush a nickel on a railroad track
Time is running out I think, I think too much
Do you think about the guy that you first kissed?
Yeah, his tongue went in circles, practically missed your lips
Do you think he's now the world's greatest lover?
Or sitting at home watching CNN on TNT or TV?
Do you think about your past life?
Were you a countess or a vagabond or James Bond
Or yeah but bisexual
Do you think I should care what you think?
Well, is your cup half empty, is your cup half full?
Whatcha gonna be when you grow up?
Are you a gym teacher, rock star or superhero
In a major motion picture, action feature creature?

Over and over, figure it out
Maybe today we'll find the message in the clouds
Maybe tomorrow we'll crush a nickel on a railroad track
Time is running out, I think I think too much
Do you think about all the books you haven't read?
Are you a street smart cat or are you just an intellect?
Do you think about this now
The girl who made you miserable in junior high, made you cry?
Do you thinks she's smoking like five packs of cigarettes a day

And going to therapy, wait I wasn't finished
Well, is your cup half empty, is your cup half full?
Whatcha gonna be when you grow up?
Are you a gym teacher, rock star or superhero
In a major motion picture, action feature creature?
Over and over, figure it out
Maybe today we'll find the message in the clouds
Maybe tomorrow we'll crush a nickel on a railroad track
Time is running out, I think I think too much
Do you think it's normal for white people to wear dreadlocks?
Are you a barefoot earthling or a hermit in socks
Guys in tuxedos are kind of deceiving
But you know, you see them in the park, jogging along
It's a little more revealing
Do you think about your funeral?
If you died how many people are gonna show up?
Do you think we're capable of change
Or we're just gonna, oh, screw up our children?
Do you think about fires, who do you rescue first
Your kids or your sleeping husband?
