Face Your Demons

After Forever

Jack in a box and here I am You're favourite mirror and your only honest reflection and your guide
I am you deepest fear, the one you'll always hear
I am the devil in disguise, I am your dreamI am the sneaky connection to your most devilish reflection
The scary imagination of the real youI represent what you deny You're never scared so why are you running away from the temptation of my words
Oh you don't know what I could do for you
Or I could put you through...
And you don't really understand that only fear leads this gameFace your demons
Hear that inner voice
It calls, it cries for you
Just listen well
I'm the one who'll tell terrifying, scary, dreadful talesYou'd better listen
That's some free advice
So what scares you the most
Let me know, be a good host
I want to tell you how your fear looks and how to play this gameFace your demons
Hear that inner voice
It calls, it cries for you
Just listen well
I'm the one who'll tell terrifying, scary, dreadful talesWar is breaking loose, it cannot be stopped
Cars are racing by and you're getting crushed
Friends are dying slow with a lot of pain
You just fear it allBleeding from a wound that you cannot see
And you're seeing things that can never be
God is not made up and he wants revenge
You just fear it all
Fear
You just fear, you can only fear
Face your demonsSo did you know that all your memories Color all you'll ever be in a dark and misty cloud that I am floating on
I'm still the voice that speaks inside your head
The demon under your bed
I'm still the one who haunts your soul with devlish lust for frightFace your demons
Hear that inner voice

It calls, it cries for you
Just listen well
I'm the one who'll tell scary, dreadful talesFace your demons
Hear that inner voice
It calls, it cries for you
Just listen well
I'm the one who'll tell terrifying, scary, dreadful tales
