

One Shot

Mad Caddies

poor man cry out to his god his dying and hungry rich man have a heart attack worrying about his money he alienates himself from his family and points the blame in some other direction the other never had no one he only needed affection from one end of the world to another I hear them say they need to find a piece of inner protection a remedy to take their hurt away in their on minds they failed you see them fallen one shot left at redemption has got them calling

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnyrics.com/>