

Down to Earth

Bee Gees

Hello there, is there any air?
Can you slow me down? Can you believe
That what you see could never ever be
So real somehow down to earth, my merry men There's some help needed here and you're there
You can see if you stand on your chair
That there's millions and millions
And millions and millions of people like Hello there, do you really care?
Have you time to learn?
Could you believe that what you read?
One thousand pages couldn't tell you why
Down to earth, my merry men There's some help needed here and you're there
You can see if you stand on your chair
That there's millions and millions and
Millions and millions of people like you

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnllyrics.com/>