One Less Thing At a Time

Choke

you don't know me you just sit the stunt you've seen all before still you don't say a thing the left out with no doubt your pocket away
you've seen all before still you don't say a thing seen in your face no time to explain nothing won't ever change your ways and now you're see a thing you're never thought you see this the sting you thought you came out you cheat so quick from you to tick your feelings one less thing at a time
