Window Pain

Gumball

You're always looking out through the window pane
I see you watching out through the (?)
You don't even know which way the wind blows

You're always waiting, waiting for nothing real
And when you wonder if you should beg or steal
You don't even know if you should stay or go

You're always smiling, although I know you're sad
I see you sleeping, I wonder if you're dead
You don't even know if you should stay or go

Don't fight it, you can't deny it
You know it's in your heart
You can't beat it, baby you need it
Come on, make a new start
You don't want it, then you're right on it
You know it's what you need
You can't fight it, why don't you try it?
You've got my guarantee

Things seem to happen if you let them happen
You just have to open your heart
Things will get better when you least expect it
You just gotta make a new start
Things that you count on always have a reason
You just got to keep it inside
Things that you dream of only you believe in
You just got to make it alright

Lyrics submitted by es.

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/