

Broken Bones

Nonpoint

You forget I got this far without you
I'm not the person that you think I am
The life I want to lead needs no approval
From someone who will never understand

You're forgetting my broken bones

Forgetting I'm not alone

Hard to stand alone

When this feels like home

In this crowd

Just because you lived a little longer
Doesn't mean your will is any stronger
You forget that all these scars remember

Every time you say I need to change

You're forgetting my broken bones

Forgetting I'm not alone

Hard to stand alone

When this feels like home

In this crowd

In this crowd

The decisions that we make

Decisions that we make

To stand alone

To stand alone

The decisions that we make

Decisions that we make

To stand alone

Forgetting my broken bones

Forgetting I'm not alone

Hard to stand alone

When this feels like home

In this crowd

In this crowd

The decisions that we make

Decisions that we make

To stand alone
