

The Rift

Sepultura

Men is not alone in this world and
Mankind's not completely absurd
Breaking men ground to build and to grow
Advancing their lives for better or worseIn a world growing fast, we're losing touch
Cultivating hate and forging rules
Closing our eyes, we search the sky
Expectations are from religionWhat went wrong?
I don't believe youIt's been around for thousands of years at least
There's nothing new with another catastrophe
A sense to move on is filling the air
Or are we all just [Incomprehensible]What went wrong?
I don't believe you
What went wrong?
I don't believe youMen is not alone in this world and
Mankind's not completely absurd
Breaking men ground to build and to growKashmir, Colombia, Rio, New York
Old wars revived to revenge a lost
Taking what's left and burning it down
Creating oppositionWhat went wrong?
I don't believe you
What went wrong?
I don't believe youIt's not religion
No complication
Just [Incomprehensible]
No

Songwriters

LEON GREEN, DERRICK / KISSER, ANDREAS RUDOLF / CAVALERA, IGOR / PINTO, PAULO XISTO

JR. Published by

Lyrics Â© Universal Music Publishing Group

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnllyrics.com/>