

Bible on the Dash

Casey Daniels Band

Grandma gave me this old book
I never read it much I probably should.
All the answers wrote in red, I never listen to a word she said.
Iâ€™m selfish lord, help me out. Grandmaâ€™s sick she needs me now.
(I know she needs me)

I know itâ€™s time to let her go,
Sheâ€™s fading fast and heaven knows, that I ainâ€™t prayed like this in so long.
I said â€œLord forgive her for her sins, sheâ€™s been through hell and back again.â€•
And I will too once sheâ€™s gone.
Thatâ€™s a smile I canâ€™t get back, Iâ€™m losing all I ever had.
Thatâ€™s why I keep this bible on the dash.

I donâ€™t remember what she said to me;
Between the tears and the beers I hit my knees.
The doctor said she wonâ€™t last long,
I just pray she has the strength to carry on.
I never thought itâ€™d be this hard, but watching daddy cry; it broke my heart.
(Yeah, he broke my heart)

I know itâ€™s time to let her go,
Sheâ€™s fading fast and heaven knows, that I ainâ€™t prayed like this in so long.
I said â€œLord forgive her for her sins, sheâ€™s been through hell and back again.â€•
And I will too once sheâ€™s gone.
Thatâ€™s a smile I canâ€™t get back, Iâ€™m losing all I ever had.
Thatâ€™s why I keep this bible on the dash.
Thatâ€™s why I keep this bible on the dash.

Grandma gave me this old book, I never read it much but I probably should.

Written by: Casey Daniels

Lyrics Submitted by Matt

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnllyrics.com/>