

The End

Jennah Bell

I heard the thunder
Before we saw the rain
I felt it rumble
Before we felt the quack

So we climbed the rooftops
Just to watch the city break away
I pulled you closer to me
Whispered to you softly

Chorus:

You eyes are the only sunrise in the morning
Should they elcise, oh what is this
That gives you reason to exist?

Can't do what is ending now
Can't feel we're not holding out.
If the storm begets the dawn at least I saw the sun.

Verse:

I heard the ocean
Before we saw the shore
I watched roll in
Before we rocked the boat

So we climbed the ships bow
Here and now, across the ending hour
I pulled you closer to me.
Whispered to you softly

Chorous

Bridge:

In your eyes at least I saw
I saw the Sun. X2

So we climbed the rooftops
Just to watch the city break away
I pulled you closer to me

Whispered only one thing

Chorus
