

Love Love Love

Rosaline Yuen

Don't need no television
Don't need no movie stars
Don't need no custom private planes
Don't need no politicians
Don't need no stocks and bonds
Don't need no cars or boats or trains
Don't need no diamond jewelery
Don't need no rare cigars
Don't need no magnums of champagne
Don't need no penthouse mansion
Don't need no Paris fashion
Don't need no shiny golden chains
There ain't nothing you can give me
I'm already there
I got love, I got love, love
I got love, love, love
Don't need no plastic surgery
Don't need no country clubs
Don't need no butlers, cooks or maids
Don't need no marijuana
Don't need no ecstasy
Don't need no blow or sleeping aids
Don't need no personal trainer
Don't need no fortune teller
Don't need no job that gets me paid
Don't need no more religion
Don't need no air condition
Don't need no one to get me laid
There ain't nothing you can give me
I'm already there
I got love, I got love, love
I got love, love, love
Your ways are never ever static
You're always keeping it erratic
I want you to know I'm emphatic
About your love that's enigmatic
You, me and God makes three
My eyes are open, I see
Oh baby, don't you understand?

Don't need no private island
Don't need no chandelier
Don't need no million dollar view
Don't need no helicopter
Don't need no magazines
Don't need nobody else but you
There ain't nothing you can give me
I'm already there
I got love, I got love, love
I got love, love, love
But you're all I need
Oh yeah, oh
There ain't nothing you can give me
I'm already there
I got love, I got love, love
I got love, love, love
