

World in Your Hands (MKM's Danish Flex Mix)

Culture Beat

[Chorus:]

You can walk on the water, shine like a diamond

Ring the bells of fortune if you dare

You can make any move that you want to make

Take everything that you can if you dare

Just think the world is in your hands

Just think the world is in your hands

Think the world is in your hands

Just think the world is in your hands Stress on my mind, think I'll end it all, people tell me to stand tall

But I don't want to live, got nothing to give and I'm tired of hitting walls

They don't understand from where I come, my past not a pretty one

Scars, never stars, now I'm ready to quit and let this life be done

Some tell me to hold on, tell me to be strong, but the battle's too long

No fight left in me, but they don't comprehend that my will is all gone

Nothing to grasp, hope is past and my faith is in the trash

So save the love that you think I need, I'm going out with a blast [Chorus:] Troubles got me down, never got a break, just pain and heartache

Not looking for a reason to go on, no more, I've had all I can take

I'm tired of the same old thing, same old scene, death must now be king

I give up, I don't want to live up to the wicked hopes of society

Some say excel, but I still fail so well, just call me a pro

Reasons for failing, truth be known, I really don't care to know

It's time to move on, time to be gone, farewell to my king

Just want to end this losing trend with a bullet and a shot of gin [Chorus:] Just think the world is in your hands

Just think the world is in your hands

Think the world is in your hands

Just think the world is in your hands

Just think the world is in your hands

Just think the world is in your hands

Think the world is in your hands

Just think the world is in your hands
