

Sometimes

DramaGods

Sometimes you cry
Sometimes it's a phone call that will change your life
A small empty voice
Breaking the news
Brace yourself and hold on to me
You plus me relentlessly
We're taking on the future
I'm not about to lose you
You plus me insanity
Ride the storm before the calm
Sometimes it's real
Sometimes it feels like a pre-recorded life
Sometime you might forget to breathe
Use my lungs and breathe in with me
Epitomize your life
Eat you up alive
Fascination ends
Feeling justified
Be a hypocrite
Witness the event
It's an endless straightaway
Worship as you choose
As you walk along the road
It gets cold
