

Age of Light

The Mud Howlers

The moon was kissed by the sun and then created your heart It was all made of sapphire no wealthy man can acquire
It will save you at the end of timeThe sun will vanish away until we can see no ray The clouds will cover the sky and truth will come to life We were born to unfold the age of lightThe time has come to reveal this wounded world needs to heal The damage must be repaired for payback they must prepareLife will hit hard cause their hearts were blindThe universe will conspire and evil will burn in fire For all these years of lies that passed in front of our eyesIt's now time to unfold
The age of lightthe truth will come to life in this age of light the truth will come to life in this age of lightI walk alone trough the fire I walk alone in this road Keep climbing higher and higher to see the end from aboveYour heart was made of sapphire No wealthy man can acquire it will show you the way
In the age of light
