Hyperballad

ã‚³ãƒˆãƒªãƒ³ã‚´

We live on a mountain
Right at the top
There's beautiful view
From the top of the mountainEvery morning I walk towards the edge
And throw little things off
Like car-parts, bottles and cutlery
Or whatever I find lying around
It's become a habit, a way to start the dayI go through all this
Before you wake up
So I can feel happier
To be safe up here with youI go through all this
Before you wake up
So I can feel happier
To be safe up here with youIt's early morning
No one is awake
I'm back at my cliff
Still throwing things offI listen to the sounds they make
On their way down
I follow with my eyes
'Til they crashI imagine what my body would sound like Slamming against those rocks
And when it lands
Will my eyes be closed or open?I go through all this
Before you wake up
So I can feel happier
To be safe up here with youI go through all this
Before you wake up
So I can feel happier
To be safe up here with youI go through all this
Before you wake up
So I can feel happier
To be safe up here with youSafe up here with you
Safe up here with you
Safe up here with you
