That's What Angels Do

Lila McCann

He drove away, I couldn't move
First bitter taste of what love can do
Sat on that porch, alone and cried
It hurt so bad, I could've died
Then Mama came out wrapped her arms around me told me
God has someone better for me, dried my tears,then she just held meThat's what Angels do, that's what love is for
Points you to a window when you can't find the door
When you're out of faith, it's more then you can take
You're not strong enough you need someone to pull you through
That's what Angels doBig city steets, bright city lights
Some days the dream's not worth the fight
Miss my hometown-wide open space
A clear blue sky,a slower pace
Then the phone rings and I hear his vioce
Say baby girl I'm so proud of you, you're not alone
He give me hope, he lifts me upThat's what Angels do, that's what love is for
Points you to a window when you can't find the door
When you're out of faith, it's more then you can take
You're not strong enough you need someone to pull you through
That's what Angels doThat's what Angels do, that's what love is for Points you to a window when you can't find the door
When you're out of faith, it's more then you can take
You're not strong enough you need someone to pull you through
That's what Angels doWhen there's no way on earth and you can't make it work
That's what Angels do
