

In Flames

Warbell

Behold the heart of mine in flames

A top the highest mountain, below the darkest depths

    In the valley of hate I wander

    My frost bitten heart is set ablaze, set ablaze

        Ravage my soul

        Plunder my mind

        Branded by thunder, fire and ice

    Trampled in fury by hordes of the light

    I am crushed by the hand of my sky

        My sky has forsaken me

        Rivers of crimson lead me now

    Trail of fire, in a place of fire eternal

        Left in flames

        Scattered in a world of thorns

        Torn from my earthly self

    Aggrieved in tears and bitterness

    I fall beyond stars, beyond stars

        Ravage my soul

        Plunder my mind

        Branded by thunder, fire and ice

    Trampled in fury by hordes of the light

    My fiery heart is stronger than ever

        It's stronger than ever before

        My heart in flames
