

Old People

John Hiatt

Old people on the hill
They don't have too much time
Cut a head on the buffet lineGot back for a dollar and 50
Then I argue with the ...girl
They lived so much behind them
They try to slow down this god damn worldOld people are pushing and they aren't mushy
Old people are pushing cause life ain't cushyOld people are pushing
They drag what they don't want drag
And go as slow as they want to
They don't care who stays aliveAnd they'll kiss that grand baby
All around the back and back front
They don't care what you think of them
That baby has got something that they wantOld people are pushing and they aren't mushy
Old people are pushing cause life ain't cushy
Old people are pushing and they aren't mushy
Old people are pushing cause life ain't cushyOld people are pushing cause you don't know how they feel
And when you pretend you do
They know it's not real
But soon it's gonna be all over
Got another reason to let you pass
It seems like sweet , old people
But they are not about to kiss your assOld people are pushing and they aren't mushy
Old people are pushing cause life ain't cushy
Old people are pushing and they aren't mushy
Old people are pushing cause life ain't cushyOld people are pushing,
Old people are pushing
Old people are pushing
Cause life ain't cushy
