

Wanderlust

Megadeth

As sure as the sun rises in the east
Another gunman will come seeking my defeat
Mmm hmm, will he be as fast as me?
Are his nerves quiet and still?
Will he fall like all the rest ending his days upon boothill? I'm an outcast ridin' into town alone
I got wanderlust branded deeper than the bone
I'm an outcast ridin' into town alone
I got a lust for wanderin' branded deeper than the bone
Bone, bone, bone, bone, bone, bone As I ride into the sunset to take another town
Thank you for the invite but I just can't settle down
I just can't settle down
The dust that coats my hat is from a dozen towns
Dust is shootin' down another dozen clowns Oh, I'm an outcast ridin' into town alone
I got wanderlust branded deeper than the bone
Oh, I'm an outcast ridin' into town alone
I got a lust for wanderin' branded deeper than the bone A drum beats for me, it's louder every day
The cadence tells me that soon, I'll meet my judgment day
(My judgment day)
My judgment day
(My judgment day)
My judgment day
(My judgment day)
My judgment day
(My judgment day)
My judgment day
(My judgment day)
My judgment day
(My judgment day)
My judgment day
(My judgment day)
(My judgment day) A drum beats for me, it gets louder every day
And the cadence tells me that soon, I'll meet my judgment day
Life's an endless showdown never knowin' when they'll come
I sleep with one eye open lyin' with my smokin' gun
My smokin' gun The game I play has caused a lot of grief
They were dyin' for fame
So I brought some relief
They were dyin' for fame
I have brought 'em some relief Oh, I'm an outcast ridin' into town alone
And I got wanderlust branded deeper than the bone

I'm an outcast with lightnin' in my hand
Oh, I got wanderlust lost in no man's land I got a lust for wanderin' lost in no man's land
Oh, I got wanderlust
