

The Hunger

Fireflight

Cut it out, cut it out
I know its what youre wanting to say
Burning up, burning up
I know why youre feeling this way There's an ache you can't erase
A yearning that you can't replace And you want Him, and you need Him
But you act like He's not there
Yeah, you know that you're hollow
And something's missing here
So you push and you pull the hole in your soul
But you can't make the hunger disappear You got a rusted out lock on your door
Getting ready to break
You've held back love long enough
I think its time to cave You're waiting for a sign
The fact is faith is blind And you want Him, and you need Him
But you act like He's not there
Yeah, you know that you're hollow
And something's missing here
So you push and you pull the hole in your soul
But you cant make the hunger disappear Do you wanna spend your whole life jaded?
Stuck in a rut that you created
Why dont you break the cycle?
Let love win 'Cause you want Him, and you need Him
But you act like He's not there
Yeah, you know that you're hollow
And something's missing here And you want Him, and you need Him
But you act like He's not there
Yeah, you know that you're hollow
And something's missing here
So you push and you pull the hole in your soul
But you can't make the hunger disappear
