Break-Up

Matt Palmer

All you need is time
All you need is space
Boy, that's what she said to me
It's been far too long
You're so far away
And I'm all alone againI don't know why I believed you
And all the lies you told
I watched the love turned see-through
This shit is getting old
I act like I don't need you
You're making me so cold every day'Cause every time I wake up
I think about our BREAK-UP
And the way that you just loved me
The endAnd every time I LOOK UP
My world is so damn SHOOK UP
'Cause you loved me, then you're leaving me byIf I learned nothing of this hard love
I can see it with these eyes'Cause every time I wake up
I think about our BREAK-UP
And I feel like I'm just losing my mind
My mind, yeahLike the man in hand, lost it slower then
You get in the past tonight
We got spinning chores
Every time I call conversation running dryI don't know why I believed you
And all the lies you told
I watched the love turned see-through
This shit is getting old
I act like I don't need you
You're making me so cold every day'Cause every time I wake up
I think about our BREAK-UP
And the way that you just loved me
The endAnd every time I LOOK UP
My world is so damn SHOOK UP
'Cause you loved me, then you're leaving me byIf I learned nothing of this hard love
I can see it with these eyes'Cause every time I wake up
I think about our BREAK-UP
And I feel like I'm just losing my mind
My mind, yeahAnd if feels like I'm falling
And I'm screaming your name
And you still hear me calling

But you turn me awayAnd if feels like I'm falling
And I'm screaming your name
And you still hear me calling
But you turn me awayEvery time, every time'Cause every time I wake up
I think about our BREAK-UP
And the way that you just loved me
The endAnd every time I LOOK UP
My world is so damn SHOOK UP
'Cause you loved me, then you're leaving me byIf I learned nothing of this hard love
I can see it with these eyes'Cause every time I wake up
I think about our BREAK-UP
And I feel like I'm just losing my mind
My mind, yeah
