Punk Rock Planet

The Eyeliners

It all started at the break of dawn
Everyone knew something was wrong
City filled with chaos and disarray
Military spy they would sayThe door opens wide
Someone steps out from inside
No one knows where he's been
He's not your typical alien
Leather jacket full of pins
Converse shoes and a grin
He said, "Step inside and I'll take you for a wild ride"Yeah yeah yeah yeah-Now you're one of themThen it drew closer it drew near
As it took it's course along the stratosphere
Dark clouds looming way up high
They said there's an object in the sky[Chorus]We went up high rockin' in outer space
Defying the laws of time and space
Ship is rockin' they're going insane
Punk Rock Planet* Punk Rock Plane![Chorus]
