The Last Lie Ever Told

The Worn Flints

It's much too late
Oh I've gone to far
And I put back together
What my mind has torn apart

And I told myself
This would be the last time
This would be the last time

It'll be
Without a sound
The sun is always brighter
Ooh the second time around

And I told myself
This would be the last time
This would be the last time
And I told myself
