

Death Anxiety

Bleeding Through

My body will be set aflame tonight
Even though my heart will remain
It's cold as ice inside
I feel my fists are buried in the pavement Helpless to the rotting cancer, sent to ruin my life I awake to this anxiety, that every breath, every step might be my last I feel i'm growing numb
A slight chill to my flesh like one million knives stabbing a hole right through my chest There is no comfort
My surroundings bleak as night
The angels of death awaiting for me to lock me in their sights Lifeless I fear the wrath of God
I hear the dead speak through the wall
Remember me, eternal sleep awaits me underground
I will not wait, for you to follow to the other side Come on!
I feel closer now
To walk with the dead
Every night i fear is the last with you
So please remember what it mean I feel I'm growing numb
A slight chill to my flesh
like one million knives stabbing a hole right through my chest
There is no comfort
My surroundings bleak as night
The angels of death awaiting for me to lock me in their sight I awake to this anxiety, that every breath every step might be my last Every step might be my last Lifeless i fear the wrath of God
I hear the dead speak through the wall
Remember me
Eternal sleep awaits me underground
I will not wait for you to follow to the other side

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnllyrics.com/>