

Half Past You

Love Battery

I'd like a windowsill a key a door, i'd like to win
Maybe we can take a ride
I could blow the stars right out in your eyes
Without a clue without a fine I found the most we are
I tore a tear and tore a trace and leaned on what we are

And I can't dig it out
From where deep inside
Can you change my mind
Half past you is my new point of view

It gets to you and me I took a path but you weren't there
To tell the picture's got the same expression hard to find Yeah you're walking a straight line walking a straight line yeah how cool it is
All you want is a cool time want is a cool time yeah how strange it is

And I can't dig it out
Somewhere deep inside
Can you change my mind
Half past you is my new point of view

I'd like a windowsill a key a door I'd like to win
Maybe we could take a ride
I could blow the stars right out in your eyes
Without a clue without a fine I found the most we are
To tell the picture's got the same expression hard to find

And I can't dig it out
From where deep inside
Can you change my mind
Half past you is my new point of view

I can't dig it out
From where deep inside
Can you change my mind
Can you change my mind
I live in a lonely fray
I live in a lonely fray

Lyrics submitted by Steffen Stroh.

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnllyrics.com/>