Picture Perfect Morning

Edie Brickell & New Bohemians

I haven't learned to say goodbye
Hello itself is hard enough
It kills to let a good thing die
And I don't want to see it go badPicture perfect morning
Just before the dawn and city lights are dying
Sing in the cathedral
Face in the stained glass is cryingI won't let myself look at you
And see you like I really do
It's hard to believe that you're really here
So I just pretend that you're not therePicture perfect morning
Just before the dawn and city lights are dying
Sing in the cathedral
Face in the stained glass is cryingPicture perfect morning
Just before the dawn and city lights are dying
Sing in the cathedral
Face in the stained glass is cryingAnd when my plane flew through the rain
It shook the wings and people screamed
But I was so sure that I'd see you again
I was not afraid of anything
