Broken Promises

Philip Selway

In time I'll return once more to find the house where I was bornThere you took a photograph of me and my sisters back then to celebrate the lies that you made you held us and hoped that you'd find peace for the very first timeone day I'll begin again and you'll start a chance to make a mendsfor all the broken promises and dreams that i never fulfilled i celebrate the lies that you made look on my face and you'll find peace for the very first timeonly the love will remainbroken promises and dreams that are never fulfilled lets celebrate the lies that you made go to a place where you'll find peace for the very first time

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/