Daimonion (You Hear Me In Your Dreams)

Project Pitchfork

six - you close your eyes five - control your breath four - you feel the warmth three - relax your mind one - now you are here two - do you feel safe it seems to be unreal
the colors fade away
like a puppet on a string where will we march today
the string was always there it leads up to the sky
who can tell me why?six - you've got to get to know yourself five - or are you just a marionette four - following the subtle rules three - given by the mighty one - given by the mighty two - following the subtile rulesit seems to be unreal
the colors fade away
it leads up to the skywho can tell me why?
you've got to get to know yourself or are you just a marionette following the subtle rules given by the mighty
day by day a life ruled by fear and hate
the same mistake
following the subtile rulesliving for the weekend now you tell me why is your meaning of life you are living a lieit seems to be unreal

the colors fade away
who can tell me why?
