

Holocaust

Borialis

They say the end's near
But I'll approach it with no fear
When the smoke clears I'll find my spirit is still here
May take years to find it the prophets are real
Too much damage to inhabit the planet, that's severe
I talk shit you heartless paupers can't feel
With concepts the smartest robber can't steal
Your fears will cause all ya'll to pour tears
Cause the bomb that I'm droppin' is landing, so stand clear
Are there any queers here in the theater tonight?
We'll get 'em up against the wall and stick 'em with dynamite
Cause there's something going on in my head that ain't right
But I'm getting ready to take flight, so hang tight
It don't matter if you're standing tall
If you're thinking small, we all rise and fall
Don't gonna try to abide by the law
No one alive is surviving the holocaust
It don't matter if you're standing tall
If your thinking small, we all rise and fall
Don't gonna try to abide by the law
No one alive is surviving the holocaust
Fuck partying like it's 1999
Ain't watching the ball fall, ain't calculating time
Watching polar caps melt, and the coastline rise
See the ocean divide, and nine planets align
Sun shining too bright, igniting the Alpines
With petrified eyes were watching at ringside
Can't run, you can't hide, panicking worldwide
When straight out the sky, falls great balls of fire
I'll sneak on the spot where the shuttle is launched
Strap me and a broad onto a rocket and blast off
We'll be following the way of the Force like Star Wars
And I'll start a new fam' when I land on Mars
It don't matter if you're standing tall
If you're thinking small, we all rise and fall
Don't gonna try to abide by the law
No one alive is surviving the holocaust
It don't matter if you're standing tall
If you're thinking small, we all rise and fall
Don't gonna try to abide by the law
No one alive is surviving the holocaust
Now when the end comes, and your time here is done
Will you look back and say, overall, it was all fun?
Well life's been good to me so far like Joe Walsh
But it won't break my heart if it all falls apart
It don't matter if you're standing tall

If you're thinking small, we all rise and fall
Don't gonna try to abide by the law
No one alive is surviving the holocaust
