Circadian Rhythm

Son Volt

Blind-spot of a lifetime, this litter
Radiate fingers on the phone
Non-violent grace, this religion
No one wants to be aloneReclaim the rust, the northern birds stay
They like the sun to hit their feet
Bandolero on the radio
Take a little time on Cherokees streetChaos and precision with a smile
Sipping soma in the shade
Thoughts for the plain with brown eyes waiting
Guitar callous whirlwind, belief gets madeCarrying on so far under the cross
Manifestos to keep us sane
A time so weary of conflict
Silent answers, silent blameI can't stand anymore decisions
I can't stand anymore decisions
