Everything Is You

Eli Young Band

Eternal flame came on the radio

And I remember how you loved it so

Memories sneak on me, wherever I goA car like you used to drive

Pulled beside me today at the light

Chances to break down and cry wherever I goAnd you want me to be strong, any less just shows I'm weak How'd ya turn so cold, where's the girl I used to knowChorus:

And it's love and hate and all these emotions

I never thought that you'd be going

Now I'm just going through the motions

Where everything is you, everything is youAn inside joke comes to mind

We'd wear them out all the time

Memories sneak up on me wherever I goAnd it seems you've disappeared, though you're not that far away Please tell me it's not true, I didn't mean that much to youAnd it's love and hate and all these emotions

I never thought that you'd be going

Now I'm just going through the motions

Where everything is you, everything is youWhat did I do wrong, nothing I treated you like an angel

What'd I do wrong, nothin I treated you like an angel

What'd I do wrong, nothin I treated you like an angel

I treated you like an angelAnd it's love and hate and all these emotions

I never thought that you'd be going

Now I'm just going through the motions

Where everything is you, everything is youI treated you like an angel...
