You're Everything

The Robert Cray Band

As long as you're who I'm with, praise you with my dying breath
Pull my heart out of my chest, God, I'd do anything
I'll open every car door, I won't go out any more
I'll even eat off the floor, God, I'd do anything at all
I'll be there to catch you right when you fall
I'll be there as long as you tell me when
I'll be there until eternity ends
You know why 'cause you're worth everything
And side by side forever we'll be together
It keeps getting better through the test of time
We'll laugh in the face of danger, I'll be your lone ranger
And you be my angel, as we wave goodbye
And ride into the sunset, some things we ain't done yet
And prove to the world our love will never die at all
I'd stick my hand in the flames, subject myself to the pain
I'd even sleep in the rain, God, I'd do anything
I'd cross the desert for you, let you beat me black and blue
Spray paint your name on the moon, God, I'd do anything at all
I'll be there to catch you right when you fall
I'll be there as long as you tell me when
I'll be there until eternity ends
You know why, 'cause you're worth everything

And side by side forever, we'll be together
It keeps getting better, through the test of time
We'll laugh in the face of danger, I'll be your lone ranger
And you be my angel, as we wave goodbye
And ride into the sunset, some things we ain't done yet
And prove to the world our love will never die at all
I'd do anything at all
You know why, 'cause you're worth everything
I'd do things you won't believe, get you a ring if you need
Get down right here on one knee, God, I'd do anything
You know why, you know why 'cause you're worth everything
And side by side forever, we'll be together
It keeps getting better, through the test of time
We'll laugh in the face of danger, I'll be your lone ranger
And you'll be my angel, as we wave goodbye
And ride into the sunset, some things we ain't done yet

And prove to the world our love won't ever die at all (I'll be your lone ranger)
I hope you never die at all
(And you'll be my angel)
'Cause I'll do anything at all, I'll do anything at all
You know why, 'cause you're worth everything
