

Waiting for Time

Sam Sparro

Advisory - the following lyrics contain explicit language:

Sorry, I lost it, something came over me
Is there a lesson somewhere in this awful tragedy?
You didn't deserve that nobody does
Maybe we will make it, maybe not Only time can tell you, what you really got
Time is all that can undo those things I said
I'm gonna have to wait 'till you forgive me in your head
Summer will come but winter's what I dread
Your disappointment isn't easy to bare
My mind is hard awaking up to find that you aren't there
Now that you've seen it, my demons revere you
Maybe we'll get better, maybe worse
Only time will tell us, how much it really hurts
Time is all that can undo those things I said
I'm gonna have to wait 'till you forgave me in your head
Summer will come but winter's what I dread
To think I've thrown away the only love I ever had Made a really stupid mistakes, makes me really fuckin' mad
I wanna see you happy hun', it's me that makes you happy
And I know you need a minute or a month or a year to forgive me
Time is all that can undo those things I said
I'm gonna have to wait 'till you forgave me in your head
Summer will come but winter's what I dread
What I dread, what I dread
What I dread, what I dread
