

When Love Hurts Inside

France Joli

When love hurts inside
I realize there's no place to hide
From that pain that leads to sorrow
And the tears I cry
To hide the pride
Of this broken heart
Of dreams that somehow turned out to be lies
Why is love so unkind
Lonely memories
Left shadows in the night
Linger on and on
To break this heart of mine
Now the feelings that I have
Leaving wasn't right

When love hurts inside
How to survive
Through those lonely nights
So cold and never ending
There's no wrong or right
Loves burnt out its light
And all that remains are just memories of a cold and empty heart
How could it turn out so sad
When just yesterday it was you in my arms I had
And it felt so good
To think it would never end
Now I find myself alone
And all could do is pretend

When love hurts inside
There's no place left one can hide
To ease away the pain
When love ends up
With a broken heart and you cry
Cause there's only you to blame
When love hurts inside

When love hurts inside
How to survive through those lonely nights

Oh so cold and never ending
There's no wrong or right
Loves burnt out its light
And all that remains are just memories of a cold and empty heart
How could it turn out so sad
When just yesterday it's you in my arms I had
And it felt so good to think it would never end
Now I find myself alone and all I could do is pretend
Without you

Lyrics submitted by NC.

Lyrics provided by
<https://damnlyrics.com/>