Sink In

Comeback Kid

Shout out in the morning, calling out in repeat
Medicine's motivation, couldn't keep me asleep
Got a good imagination, always twisting the gears
Battle miscommunication, answer-less, it appears I'veAnd I've got nowhere else, and I drift away
Left just in time to get peace of mind, now I divide
Reasons heavy in rotation, stories starting to bleed
I can see your dedication, and it matters to me
But I feel like I've gotta retain,
But there's a little bit of something in the wayI don't wanna sink in
I've been led astray, I retaliate
I don't wanna sink in
I've been led astray, I retaliateSteady one foot in, held the other back
With the other back I couldn't hit that stride, now I divide
There's a point, I saw it breaking That I needed to hear
A formidable reaction, 'cause it matters to me
Now I feel like I've gotta retain,
But there's a little bit of something in the wayI don't wanna sink in
I've been led astray, I retaliate
I don't wanna sink in
I've been led astray, I retaliate
Because I don't wanna sink in
So I don't let it sink inGot nowhere else-I've been led astray
I've got nothing else-I retaliateI'm letting it in, I'm ready if you are
