

Try to Fight It

Shallow Side

I can't stand the way you always lead me on
I follow blindly right behind you and I still get lost
You never look and check to see
If maybe I'm ok
This crazy world you live in
Is filled with mistakes, I lose it all when I speak to you
Your face, your eyes, changes what I've been through
Now, now I can't help but to scream your name
I try to fight it
I try to fight it And I can't stand the way your lies they seem so real
Now every time I burn inside it's all that I can feel
You promise you will always change
But things just stay the same
You bend me till you break me and it's driving me insane
But then I see you smile... I lose it all when I speak to you
Your face, your eyes, changes what I've been through
Now, now I can't help but to scream your name
I try to fight it
I try to fight it
