Even If

Zoegirl

Stranded in the middle of a hurricane
I've got an umbrella but nowhere to stay
Do I give up now, do I face the cold
I better get some boldnessLooking to the left I see it coming
I'm alone and I'm scared and it's heading my way
Do I run, do I hide, do I dare close my eyes
Do I face the fear insideTime after time
Lord, I'll keep running back to you
Keep running back to you
I, I realize this time that I'll be fineEven if the stars fell like rain
Even if tomorrow never came
Even if the world I know should crumble
Nothing's gonna stand in my way
Even if the sun left the sky
And even if these tears never dry
Even if the mountains fall and tumble
If what's left of me is taken, I will not be shakenLanded in the middle of the desert
And I'm wondering why what keeps me alive
When the water I drink
And the air that I breathe is dryTime after time
Lord, I'll keep running back to you
Keep running back to you
I, I realize this time that I'll be fineEven if the stars fell like rain
Even if tomorrow never came
Even if the world I know should crumble
Nothing's gonna stand in my way
Even if the sun left the sky
And even if these tears never dry
Even if the mountains fall and tumble
If what's left of me is taken, I will not be shakenEven in the darkest night
I know I'll be alright
The world is bound to change
But you always stay the sameYou give me joy, you give me hope
You give me love that doesn't changeEven if the stars fell like rain
Even if tomorrow never came
Even if the world I know should crumble
Nothing's gonna stand in my way
Even if the sun left the sky
And even if these tears never dry

Even if the mountains fall and tumble
If what's left of me is taken, I will not be shakenEven if the stars fell like rain
Even if tomorrow never came
Even if the world I know should crumble
Nothing's gonna stand in my way
Even if the sun left the sky
And even if these tears never dry
Even if the mountains fall and tumble
If what's left of me is taken, I will not be shaken

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/