Don't Play With My Heart

Beres Hammond

My dear Renee, I might have to say
So long, so long, so long
Sorry, it didn't work out
But I won't waste no more time over you, oh no
When with this life I got better things to do, oh
Why should I waste precious time over you? Oh yeah
Because you checks and no one needs me
So you play with my heart
Now why would I cry if you're leaving tomorrow?
Check and see who is surprised
Why should I die if you tell me it's over?
When will you realize?
Every man needs a woman for comfort
Nothing to mix up the brain
So if you ever, ever think for a moment
If you can run this man insane
No ain't gonna waste no more time over you, oh no
When with my life I've got better things to do, oh yeah
Why should I waste precious time over you? Oh yeah
Or when you checks and no one needs me
So you play with my heart, oh yeah
Tick-a-tick-a-tock and the clock is a-running
Now I'm gonna make you a deal
If you're gonna stay or tell me if you're leaving
But make sure this time it's for real
'Cuz I'm not the kind of a man to be pleading
'Cuz that'd only mess with my pride
So though deep down inside I'll be bleeding
I'd still have to push you aside
'Cuz I ain't gonna waste more time over you, no
Alright, no, no, no, no, no, no, no
Ooh
My dear Renee, it is not okay
For you to come and go
And do whatever he's asked
I ain't gonna waste no more time over you, oh no
When with my life I got better things to do, oh
Ain't gonna waste no more time over you
You must be checks and no one needs me

So you play with my heart
Now why should I cry when you're leaving tomorrow?
Check and see who is surprised
Why would I die if you tell me it's over?
When will you realize?
Every man needs a woman for comfort
Nothing to mix up the brain
So if you ever, ever think for a moment
If you can run this man insane
No ain't gonna waste no more time over you, oh no
When with my life I got better things to do
Ain't gonna waste no more time over you
You must be checks and no one needs me
So you play with my heart
Ooh Renee, it's time to say
Bye, bye
