The Voyage

Amanda Cook

Speak
Even if your voice is trembling
Please
You've been quiet for so long
Believe
It'll be worth the risk you're takingYou're afraid,
But you can hear adventure calling
There's a rush
Of adrenaline to your bones
What you make
Of this moment changes everythingWhat if the path you choose
Becomes a road
What if the path you take
Becomes your home
The wind is high,
But the pressure's off
I'll send the rain
Wherever we end up
Wherever we end upSet your sights
Set them far beyond the familiar
In the rising tides
Feel the rhythm of your heart
Lift your head
Now the wind and waves don't matterThe path you choose
Becomes a road
The ground you take
Becomes your home
The wind is high,
But the pressure's off
I'll send the rain
Wherever we end up
Wherever we end upI am the wind in your sails
I am the wind in your sails
I am the wind in your sails
I am the wind in your sails
I am the wind in your sails
I am the wind in your sails
