

Pitch Black Progress

Scar Symmetry

This landscape mechanical
Well-oiled black machinery
Bio-driven computers
Programmed for slave labor
For slave labor Structure made in urban design
Kills the evolution of the mind
I marching on a dead end path
With misplaced concentration It's a pitch black progress
It's a dead end process
It's a pitch black progress
No more, no less Digital temples monitor the population
Supplying the masses with what they see fit
Programming digital dreams for the consumers
A zombie nation devoid of improvisation Electro-hypnotic messages
Downloaded directly to the brain
Endless chanting subliminal
Hammers down the will to resist Progressing into a pitch black future
Leaving behind an analogue past
Promoting all of their new ways
Whatever the cost may be It's a pitch black progress
It's a dead end process
It's a pitch black progress
No more, no less Introducing a pitch black approach
Taste the horns of the future
Swallow the sulfur of the new order
To resist is to non-exist
