Cry Cry Cry

Nicole Atkins

You oughta ask her
If two wrongs make a right.
Cause our love's a dark disaster
Since I turned on the light
Everyone stumbles in spite of themselves
But you're holding the cards,
You're not sharing the wealth.
So I cry, cry, cry
Don't you know how I feel?
I've been low on your lies,
Why you're high on a hill.
So I try, try, try
But it does me no good,
And you won't hear my warning.
It's a bad day darling so I cry.
Love me forever
But the trust has been lost
You won't waste it
You'd hurt me never
Now the line has been crossed
I hung your picture
In there by my door
And the folded up page,
That's the crease in your heart.So I cry, cry, cry
Cause I don't understand
How I'm under the spell
Of a confidence man
Oh I try, try, try
But it does me no good
And you hear my warning
It's a bad day darling so I cryOh I cry, cry, cry -
I'm stuck where I stand
While you're running around,
Should be holding my hand.
Oh I try, try, try,
But it does me no good,
And you hear my warning.
It's a bad day darling so I cry.
