

I'd Be Lying

Greg Laswell

Won't you let me give you a hand?
I have an extra I'm not using
Won't you let me lighten your load?
I mean after all your legs are shaking And I can understand
All I need is your hand
Oh, won't you take the fall?
It is me after all Won't you let me match your stride?
I can slow down if you want to
We can handle it side by side
What do you say girl, don't you want to? And I can understand
All I need is your hand
Oh, won't you take the fall?
It is me after all I'd be lying if I ran away
I'd be lying if I ran away
And so I'll stay But won't you let me be your man?
I'm strong enough you know that I can
Be the one to ease your mind
Ease your mind And I can understand
All I need is your hand
Oh, won't you take the fall?
It is me after all I'd be lying if I ran away
I'd be lying if I ran away
And so I'll stay Won't you let me give you a hand?
I have an extra I'm not using
Won't you let me lighten your load?
I mean after all your legs are shaking And I can understand
All I need is your hand
Oh, won't you take the fall?
It is me after all And I can understand
All I need is your hand
Oh, won't you take the fall?
It is me after all There is not much that you can do
To get me to run away from you
There is not much that you can do
To get me to run away from you There is not much that you can do
To get me to run away from you
There is not much that you can do
To get me to run away from you
(I'd be lying if I ran away) There is not much that you can do

To get me to run away from you
There is not much that you can do
To get me to run away from you
(I'd be lying if I ran away) There is not much that you can do
To get me to run away from you
There is not much that you can do
To get me to run away from you
