

The Day I Found Your Love

Wishbone Ash

When I was a stranger to you in the night
And the feeling tells you, out of sympathy,
To open up your wings, turn your head to the sky,
Take off like a bird, let your heart be free. I found deep feeling devotion
The day that I found your love. I can see above the diamond-studded sky,
Hear the sound of night life passing by,
Scent the early morning with every breath of air,
Taste the secret potion that we both share. I found deep feeling devotion
The day I found your love.
