

Break the Cycle

Quo Vadis

The road to hell is paved with good intentions Dreams can only sustain for so long turning away with apprehension life passes you by Trip over another lost cause Life goes on..... Open your eyes, Break the Cycle Open your eyes, Alone in the crowd (of unscrupulous minds)
Open your eyes, Break the Cycle
Open your eyes, Open your mind Hours turn into days of endless struggle
on the road to nowhere
What was once clear, now a distant shadow
why effort is not enough to stop the tide from washing you away Life goes on.... The acrid smell of deceit the fuel that transforms notions into sound Absorbed and fused, minds confused into catalytic tone...
Condemns and decries the mistakes and the lies, and the pain [solo: Seghers] [solo: Frydrychowicz]
[solo: Seghers] The road to hell is paved with good intentions,
dreams can only sustain for so long Open your eyes, and break away from your restraints Let the blind guide your path no more Open your eyes, Break the Cycle
Open your eyes, Alone in the crowd (of unscrupulous minds)
Open your eyes, Break the Cycle
Open your eyes, Open your mind Hours turn into days of endless struggle
on the road to nowhere
What was once clear, now a distant shadow
why effort is not enough to stop the tide from washing you away Life goes on to the road to hell to rest, after life in pain

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnlyrics.com/>